Gardening With Young Children Early Years

Gardening with children is like most sensory experiences with three and four year-olds. It’s messy, it’s chaotic, and the more children you add to the scenario, the more instruction goes out the window and you just hope something is getting through. The amazing thing is that something always does.

Give children their own garden space. (This does not have to be big. You can start with a large container or a few pots.) Involve older children in the planning and design of the garden. Use lightweight, easy-to-handle, correct-sized tools and garden equipment. Encourage children to dig in the dirt. (Younger children love making mud pies)

Gardening for children - Better Health Channel

Other gardeners with young children often raise their beds in boxes to make a visual “keep out,” Since we avoided this, our vegetable beds in the garden must stand out (for feet). We used bark to accomplish this, as it made the walking paths a different color and texture).
