In the design of prestressed concrete member, the estimated loss of prestress due to shrinkage of concrete and creep of concrete and steel is at the order of nearly 200 N/mm². But high tension steel has an ultimate strength of 2100 N/mm² and if initially, to say 1000 N/mm² there will still be large stress in the reinforcement after making a deduction for the loss of prestress.

Prestressed concrete is a form of concrete used in construction. It is substantially "prestressed" during production, in a manner that strengthens it against tensile forces which will exist when in service.: 3-5 This compression is produced by the tensioning of high-strength "tendons" located within or adjacent to the concrete and is done to improve the performance of the concrete in service.
