Network Solutions are just a domain name registrar so if you register domain.com they will let you add forward DNS entries such as www.domain.com and ftp.domain.com etc. A PTR record is a reverse DNS entry that maps an IP, say 1.2.3.4 to a forward DNS entry such as www.domain.com. Because an IP address is typically assigned to a user by their ISP, typically the ISP will look after the reverse DNS entries, so the short answer is that your friend needs to speak to their ISP, assuming they fall ...

Unfortunately our friends at Network Solutions do not make it easy to export domains into any format that can be used to import the domains into Total Uptime. This is probably due to the fact that they are first and foremost a domain registrar, not a DNS company. DNS is a somewhat secondary service, confirmed by the fact that it is free. The only way we've come up with to migrate your domain from Network Solutions is to open up two browsers and copy/paste from one to the other manually.
