Teaching Please and Thank You and Encouraging Good Manners. Day2DayParenting. November 7, 2013. Behavior, Social Graces. Teaching good manners should begin in the toddler years, as soon as children learn to speak and begin to learn how to socially interact in their world. Toddlers learn well through a combination of having their parents model good manners and the use of repetition and praise.

Teaching Please and Thank You and Encouraging Good Manners ...

Ask the students to tell what they already know about using polite words. Be sure the following points are discussed: • Always say "thank you" when someone gives you a gift or a compliment. • Say "thank you" when someone does something for you. • Say "please" when you are asking someone to give you something or to do something for you. • Do not say "please" over and over again as a way to beg for something you want- that is not a polite thing to do at all.
