Cut, Paste, Create is a visual journal where the reader is encouraged to fill the pages with design ideas using collage and to explore and reflect on their own creative concepts and personal taste. Whilst some pages seek a more personal engagement, for example relating to moods or feelings, others simply provide a space to “design a range of coats for your dog” or “create a welcome mat” to invite people in to your home.

In human-computer interaction and user interface design, Cut, Copy, and Paste are related commands that offer an interprocess communication technique for transferring data through a computer's user interface. The Cut command removes the selected data from its original position, while the Copy command creates a duplicate; in both cases the selected data is kept in temporary storage. The data from the clipboard is later inserted wherever a Paste command is issued. The data remains available ...
