Key Performance Indicators - Intrafocus

The French philosopher Voltaire once advised to 'judge of a man by his questions rather than by his answers' and Albert Einstein maintained that all he ever did was ask simple questions. I have developed the concept of Key Performance Questions (KPQs) as a tool to help develop better and more meaningful Key Performance Indicators (KPIs).

What Are Key Performance Questions (KPQs)?

Performance measurement, and the use of key performance indicators (KPIs), is an integral part of any of these models, providing feedback to inform and improve public service delivery and promoting accountability by demonstrating to key stakeholders the results that government is achieving.

DEVELOPING KEY PERFORMANCE INDICATORS

Developing and implementing a suite of meaningful KPIs for a large organisation requires courage, an understanding of health informatics, stakeholder engagement, stamina and pragmatism. The process we describe can be replicated and/or modified as needed, with discussion of key lessons learned to help practitioners plan ahead.
