Step by step instructions: Choose a transistor of the same polarity: The first major selection criterion is whether the transistor is PNP or NPN. Select a replacement transistor of the same material: Most transistors are either silicon or germanium. As bias voltages and other features are different it is necessary to select a replacement transistor with the same material.

The AC128 is a good general-purpose replacement for OC71, OC78 and OC81. Note that AC127, AC176 and AC187 are NPN and the others are PNP.

Replacement with modern silicon devices is also a possibility, but it is currently not such a pressing issue as the AF117 series.
