The Potty Train

Potty training is usually fastest if your child is at the last stage before you start the training. If you start earlier, be prepared for a lot of accidents as your child learns. They also need to be able to sit on the potty and get up from it when they're done, and follow your instructions. Getting ready for potty training

How to potty train - NHS

Potty training success hinges on physical, developmental and behavioral milestones, not age. Many children show signs of being ready for potty training between ages 18 and 24 months.
However, others might not be ready until they're 3 years old.
There's no rush. If you start too early, it might take longer to train your child.

Potty training: How to get the job done - Mayo Clinic

Making potty training interesting for your child will encourage them to sit still on the potty. You could keep certain books or toys in the bathroom especially for potty times. There's no need to keep your child on the potty for more than a couple of minutes.
